SEMINAR SET FOR WEDNESDAY ON BREAST CANCER

ROANOKE RAPIDS, NC (October 7, 2011)—Halifax HealthLink will sponsor a seminar on breast cancer Wednesday night.

The seminar is entitled, “Loving you through it” and is free of charge to women in the community. Refreshments will be served.

Terry Mason, mammography supervisor at Halifax Regional, will speak about the importance of early detection by having mammograms. She will explain guidelines for having mammograms. Mason also will show mammograms and explains how they are interpreted.

Joining Mason will be Kathleen Fleming, community manager of the American Cancer Society, and Kenisha Bethea of the Susan G. Komen for the Cure organization. They will discuss resources available to women in the community.

The seminar begins at 6 p.m. Wednesday (October 12) at Halifax HealthLink in Becker Village Mall in Roanoke Rapids. For information, call Jackie Cieslinski at 252 535-4334. Halifax HealthLink is a service of Halifax Regional.
